WICHITA, KS—January 28, 2008— Aeroflex today announced it has entered into a multi-year contract worth in excess of $10 million USD with a leading supplier of cellular mobile phones and communications devices. This contract selects Aeroflex as a leading supplier of manufacturing test solutions for mobile handsets worldwide.

“Aeroflex’s innovative RF PXI products have helped our customer realize a significant reduction in manufacturing test time. We are pleased to provide a flexible platform to accommodate the varied test demands for current cellular and emerging broadband wireless systems,” said Bob Vogel, vice president/general manager, Aeroflex Test Solutions, Wireless Division.

Customer deliveries have commenced and the first product lines using Aeroflex equipment are currently operational.
